

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

What is astonishing is that the majority of the public are entirely unaware that this situation is taking place - precisely because the people who control the media don't want us to hear it.
